

I do not favor allowing the use of cell phones on commercial flights. It's already stressful enough without having to listen to someone carrying on a phone conversation right next to my ear. Aircraft seating is just too close and tight to make this bearable. REP